If the business extract states the holder of the business is a company

- Your application identifies the owner of the respondent/s business is a company.
- VCAT requires a formal document that verifies the name, status and registered office for service of the respondent so that we can correctly serve your application on the respondent without delay. Without this information, we cannot serve your application on the respondent.
- The document we need is a company name extract called Current Company Extract, which you can buy through the Australian Securities & Investments Commission (ASIC) website connectonline.asic.gov.au. If you need assistance, call ASIC on 1300 300 630.

Please do not provide the free summary information page from the ASIC website. It does not contain the registered address details and VCAT cannot accept it.*

For more information visit vcat.vic.gov.au or call us on 1300 01 8228.

Yours faithfully
