

Housing Options Finder

About you

- Can stay in your current living situation for 0 to 7 days
- Looking for housing for 1 adult
- Household income: Centrelink is the only source of income for your household
- Household assets are: $2,000
- Household includes:
 - Someone who needs support for daily living activities

Based on what you have told us, these housing options might be available for you.

You should take further steps to check if you are eligible for these. There may be other options available to you that are not listed in your results.

Your options

Crisis and emergency

Help with homelessness and family violence

To find your nearest housing crisis centre to get help with accommodation call 1800 825 955.

If you are escaping family violence you can get help from:

- Safe Steps (formerly Women's Domestic Violence Crisis Service) on 1800 015 188
- MensLine on 1300 789 978

For more information go to <https://housing.vic.gov.au/other-services-can-help>

Help to stay in your home

Help with tenancy issues

Lists organisations that are experts in tenancy matters. They can help you if you are having problems with your neighbour, real estate agent or landlord. They also provide specialist advice, support services and information to help you understand your rights and responsibilities as a tenant and those of the landlord. Organisations include Consumer Affairs Victoria, Tenants Union of Victoria, Victorian Civil Administrative Tribunal and Legal Aid.

For more information go to <https://housing.vic.gov.au/get-rental-advice>

Resolve issues with family and friends

Lists organisations that can help you if you are having problems with people in your household. Sometimes matters can be resolved just by discussing them and you can find help to do that here.

For more information go to <https://housing.vic.gov.au/other-services-can-help#relationship-services>

Financial help for renting

There is help available if you are having trouble paying your bills or managing money. Concessions are available to people with low incomes who have difficulty paying their council rates, water, gas and electricity bills. Financial assistance is available for people to maintain private rental housing by helping with rent payments, relocation costs and establishing housing.

For more information go to <https://housing.vic.gov.au/private-renters-financial-help>

Rent

Private rental

Advice and assistance for people who want to move into private rental including tips on renting privately, interest free bond loans, rent assistance and emergency rent loans.

- From the information you gave us, you may be eligible for a bond loan

For more information go to <https://housing.vic.gov.au/private-rental>

Movable unit

Movable units are movable buildings that can be set up in the backyard of a friend, relative or carer's home. They are mainly for older people and people with a disability or support needs, so they can live independently.

For more information go to <https://housing.vic.gov.au/movable-units>

Supported accommodation options

Accommodation options for older people and people living with a disability. This type of accommodation includes care and support services for people with particular needs, including high-quality supported housing that is in the community.

For more information go to <https://housing.vic.gov.au/supported-accommodation#disability>

Social housing

Housing for people on low incomes and most in need, especially those experiencing or at risk of homelessness or that have other special needs.

Social housing includes both public housing and community housing. Applicants for this type of housing who were born overseas need to be permanent residents and eligible to receive an independent Centrelink income before they can be made an offer of social housing.

For more information go to <https://housing.vic.gov.au/social-housing>