Five months ago

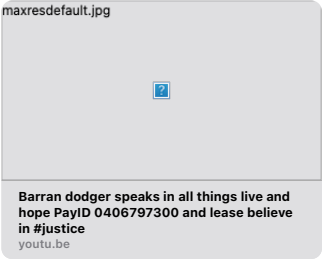

I was homeless living in my car

As a rejected whistleblower

Open for political reprisals

I could not go to police

I had never had a lawyer
Fast forward six months
Two hundred grand has been exploited from my NDIS plan
I've been with about five providers
And today, I'm still homeless
And have no food
And no money
And no lawyer
Can't go to police
A rejected whistleblower
And have no lawyer
Or advocate
That not called care
That's called abuse and neglect and good old fashioned persecution

2. "Lack of Support:" Despite being under the care of multiple NDIS providers, you've been left without food, shelter, or legal advocacy. This demonstrates a failure of these providers to fulfill their duty of care, which is crucial in your eviction case. It underscores how the system's
3. "Ongoing Persecution:" As a rejected whistleblower, you've been denied access to justice, with no lawyer willing to represent you, and no recourse through the police. This ongoing persecution and lack of protection directly contribute to your vulnerability and the precarious n
4. "Relevance to Eviction:" Your homelessness and the systemic failures that have led to it are central to understanding why you are facing eviction. The case at NCAT isn't just about a rental dispute; it's about the broader context of how you have been systematically failed by th
5. "Legal and Ethical Implications:" The failure of your NDIS providers to address your basic needs and the systemic exploitation you've suffered should be considered as part of the tribunal's deliberation. This isn't just a matter of tenancy but of human rights, care obligations, a

By framing your eviction case within this broader context, you're illustrating that your homelessness is not a result of personal failings but of systemic neglect and exploitation that needs to be addressed by the tribunal.
