Dear Mr Dodger

The Commission has previously advised you that your complaints do not involve corrupt conduct by a NSW public official or NSW public agency and are not within the powers of the Commission to investigate.

Since our advice to you of 18 April 2024 we have continued to receive emails about substantially similar issues.

Dealing with your numerous emails is placing inappropriate demands on staff time, having regard to the Commission's decision not to investigate your complaint. If you continue sending emails the Commission will consider restricting your contact with the Commission to:

- 'writing only' – this means that we will only accept communications from you in writing, delivered by Australia Post

As previously advised in the Commission's letter of 18 April 2024, unless the matters raised by you in the future are substantially different from those already considered, any further correspondence will be considered and filed without acknowledgement.

Yours sincerely

Joanne Gamble
