Dear Dr McLean,

Thank you for your emails and the information you have provided regarding your claims for workers' compensation. I have sought advice from WorkSafe Victoria (WorkSafe).

WorkSafe advises that you have made a claim (09060103251), against employer Melbourne Health. This claim is administered by WorkSafe claims agent DXC. The claim was for a mental injury and was rejected on 6 June 2007. WorkSafe advises you disputed the rejection at the Accident Compensation Conciliation Service (ACCS), that you were unsuccessful in having the rejection set aside and that you have not appealed to the courts.

WorkSafe advises that you have recently lodged a claim for impairment benefit under the same claim (09060103251). I am advised the claim form was returned to you as you did not sign it. WorkSafe advises that if you have not yet done so, you should progress your claim by signing the form and sending it to DXC.

WorkSafe also advises their understanding that you have a separate workers' compensation claim against the National Disability Insurance Agency (NDIA). Claims against the NDIA are handled by ComCare under Commonwealth legislation - the Safety, Rehabilitation and Compensation Act 1988 (SRA Act), not by WorkSafe.

If you wish to discuss this further with WorkSafe Victoria, please contact Service Review Analyst Steve at service_team@worksafe.vic.gov.au.

Yours sincerely

The Hon. Danny Pearson MP
Minister for WorkSafe and the TAC
