Your Potential Superannuation Insurance Claim

We refer to the telephone conversation between yourself and Angelique Pignatelli from our office on 24 October 2023.

We confirm that we will be closing your file. We refer to the enclosed AFCA determination made on 2 July 2019. The decision held that you only held one unit of TPD cover and we note that claim was accepted, and the cover paid. We also note we have not been able to identify any other disability cover held by you. As such, we note that there are no further steps for us to undertake at this time.

Please consider the time limits outlined below and contact us on 1800 031 124 as soon as possible if you change your mind.

Time Limits

If you want to commence Court proceedings against the Insurer, then you must do so within six years of the cause of action arising. Identifying this date can be difficult, and varies depending on the insurance policy that applies to you.

As a matter of caution, we recommend that you commence Court proceedings within six years from the date you ceased work because of your injuries, which you advised was 1 January 2004. Given that six years has already passed if you wanted to commence Court proceedings we recommend doing so as soon as possible.

There may be instances where you will be able to issue Court Proceedings after that date. We recommend you get alternate legal advice without delay. If you would like to do this we recommend you contact the Law Institute of Victoria on 9607 9550 for a referral to a law-firm or lawyer that may be able to assist.

There is NO CHARGE for advice and a first appointment in a new matter if you don't win the claim.

Yours faithfully

Kim Shaw (Enquiries: Stephanie Wakeem - 03 8102 2131)
