NSW Civil and Administrative Tribunal (NCAT)

Dear Tribunal Members,

I am writing to seek urgent intervention regarding ongoing financial abuse, coercion, and systemic neglect I am facing under the NDIS system, which is but one facet of a broader populace of government agencies following a mandate of my destruction as a targeted individual.

I am not a pedophile, a rapist, an extortionist, nor a terrorist. If I were under such brutal surveillance, I would have been arrested or jailed already unless the powers that be decided that a targeted killing was more appropriate if everyone was on board.

I wish to make it known that despite the immense psychological abuse and social rejection I have endured, I mean no harm, and I will not hurt anyone. I love people and miss them, and I understand the reasons they have turned away from me. The world's silence and institutional neglect has only deepened my persecution, but I refuse to retaliate with violence or malice.

The persecution I face is well documented, especially in my second autobiography, "Betrayed, Forsaken, Murdered." This extensive harassment-driven by advanced surveillance techniques and voice-to-skull technology (V2K)-has isolated me from society and eroded my mental health. No-touch torture, psychological warfare, and systemic neglect have been used to break me down without ever laying a hand on me.

I have been scapegoated and abandoned by the very institutions that should have provided protection and assistance. Despite this, I am still here, demanding what is rightfully mine: a safe home, basic necessities like food and medicine, and the compensation owed to me for the years of torment I have suffered.

Forgiveness, however, does not negate justice. I seek what I am rightfully due while maintaining my commitment to non-violence. The wrongful termination from The Age, public defamation by The Herald Sun, and the targeted harassment by government agencies and individuals-none of this can be excused, but I choose forgiveness over vengeance.

In closing, I reiterate that my intention is only to survive and claim my rightful place in this world. I was sacrificed, resurrected by a hand of fate, forsaken again, but I stand here today with the strength to forgive. I ask for the opportunity to live with dignity, free from persecution, with my basic human rights restored.

Thank you for your attention to this matter.

Sincerely,

Barran Dodger
