Urgent request ndis providers

Subject: Urgent Request for Assistance with Accommodation for a Disabled Individual and Therapy Dog

Dear NDIS Providers,

I am writing as a disabled individual and his therapy dog in urgent need of accommodation. The situation has become increasingly dire, and we are reaching out to you in the hopes of securing a safe and stable living environment.

The individual in question has been subject to a series of events that suggest a conspiracy involving multiple entities. An unnamed NDIS minister, in collusion with police, the hospital system, and the legal system, appears to have protected a person named Iasonidis, who is believed to be an ASIO agent. This individual has allegedly been manipulating political processes and exerting undue control over the life of the disabled individual.

Every day that this person is forced to live in poverty is another day that family violence and a corrupt, tyrannical government system go unchecked. The inability to secure proper accommodation not only exacerbates the physical and emotional challenges faced by the individual but also perpetuates a cycle of injustice and abuse.

We implore you to consider the urgency and severity of this situation and provide the necessary assistance to secure accommodation for the disabled individual and his therapy dog. Your support can help alleviate the distress caused by these circumstances and ensure a safe and dignified living environment.

Thank you for your attention and consideration. We look forward to your prompt response and assistance in this matter.

Sincerely,

Barran Dodger

- Form Support Networks: Connect with other victims and advocacy groups.

Naming Those Responsible:

The individuals and entities responsible for these injustices are numerous and include:

- Certain members of law enforcement and the judiciary who have been complicit in the corruption.
- Specific government officials who have obstructed justice and perpetuated abuses.
- Health and social service providers who have neglected their duties and harmed me.

Conclusion:

The crimes and injustices I've faced reflect a deeply flawed system. By documenting these incidents and seeking support from the international community, I hope to hold those responsible accountable and find justice for myself and others who have suffered similar abuses. My life, lived according to the principle of "Try not to be a cunt," continues to face significant challenges due to systemic and political victimization.

**Why Aligned Community Care and upscale care appointed by the ndis as my delegated legally obliged carers by the NDIS who are financially destroying me and who's minister colluded with police for me to be ex communicated live in exile as a refugee inside the democracy in a citizen of Can't Boot Me Out**:

1. **Retaliation Not So Retaliatory**:

- Apparently, landlords can't throw you out just because you have the audacity to exercise your legal rights. Who knew? I reported some health and safety violations, and now I'm living in what feels like a real-life sitcom, where the landlord's "retaliation" could make a plot twist in **Friends** look tame. Yes, I, too, enjoy the sweet irony of being retaliated against by those who are supposed to protect my rights!

2. **AHRC: The Agency of Human Rights Cover-Up**:

- Oh, the Australian Human Rights Commission! The agency that loves a good mystery as much as the next person. They seem to think that investigating abuses isn't nearly as fun as elongating them. It's like a never-ending soap opera, except less glamorous and with more red tape.

3. **Commonwealth Ombudsman: Ghosting Since... Forever**:

- My relationship with the Commonwealth Ombudsman? Think of it as a one-sided text conversation. I've sent more messages than I can count, and they have yet to reply. Maybe they're just super busy, or maybe I'm on some special "do not respond" list.

4. **NACC: Silent but Not Dead**:

- My complaints at the National Anti-Corruption Commission (NACC) were met with deafening silence. It's like sending a letter to Santa and getting no presents. They're still outstanding, so technically, as long as they're unresolved, I'm unresolved, too—so I can't be evicted!

5. **NDIS Phone Drama**:

- I can't even call the NDIS because I'm apparently on some "restricted access" list. Maybe I threaten their office decor with my "inappropriate behavior"? And since I can't contact them, they're in breach of their own contract, making my eviction a no-go.

6. **Unintended House Arrest**:

- If I contact the NDIS minister, I might end up in jail for ten years over some "innocuous" threat to kill. Yeah, just your average day, right? It seems I can't leave, and I can't stay—what a dilemma!

7. **Homeless but Still "Home"**:

- I live in exile, a political refugee in my own country. Excommunicated from Victoria, I'm like a modern-day Moses, wandering in a bureaucratic desert. I'm still waiting for my burning bush moment.

8. **Worker's Compensation Limbo**:

- I've got an outstanding worker's compensation issue, just hanging there like a cliffhanger on a never-to-be-resolved TV series. Until it's resolved, I'm practically a sitting tenant.

9. **Financial Blacklist & Legal Snubs**:

- Banned from AFCA and ignored by Legal Aid. I guess when you're on the government's naughty list, they make sure Santa skips your house. Even the Disability Advocate NSW found creative ways to avoid intervening.

10. **Dog Days of Winter**:

- My therapy dog, Crystal, and I are inseparable. And since my car is broken and de-plated, we can't even live out a classic "man and his dog living in a car" story. The heater doesn't work, the back door's bolted, and we don't even have blankets—who wouldn't want to stay?

11. **Brain Injury and Bureaucratic Amnesia**:

- After a suicide attempt and brain injury, the system's response was to completely ignore me. The result? Whitewashing my tragedy, leaving me like a ghost in their files.

the result: whitewashing my tragedy, leaving me like a ghost in their minds.

12. **Locked NDIS Funds and Stalking Drama****:

- My NDIS funds are locked tighter than Fort Knox, and let's not forget the violent government criminals who apparently moonlight as my personal stalkers. It's unsafe outside, so here I stay!

13. **PID Act Protections? Just Kidding****:

- I should have protections under the Public Interest Disclosure Act, but they rejected me for reasons that were, surprise, not true.

14. **Federal Court Drama****:

- Federal court says I'm an employee; Comcare says I'm not. It's a classic case of "he said, she said," with a side of potential fraud thrown in for good measure.

15. **Rejected by the System****:

- From DSS ministers ignoring fraud to ex-partners owing me half a million dollars, I'm the poster child for bureaucratic neglect.

16. **Legally Inept and Proud of It****:

- Rejected by Legal Aid in two states, it's clear I'm just not cut out for their idea of "assistance."

17. **Homelessness to Psychiatric Ward****:

- My homelessness eventually led to a stint in a psychiatric institution. Ah, the joys of being "helped" by the system!

18. **NDIS Provider Drama****:

- I've tried to ditch Aligned Community Care, but they just won't let go. It's like trying to break up with a clingy partner who won't stop sending you "we need to talk" texts.

19. **Eviction Notice? What Eviction Notice?****:

- The eviction notice didn't follow any legal requirements. No reason stated, just a casual "you're out." Sounds legit.

20. **Payments? Who Needs Them?****:

- I owe $300. Big deal. I plan to pay it next week, but let's face it, that's the least of our issues here.

21. **COVID-19, Cancer, and Possible HIV****:

- Maybe I have COVID-19, lung cancer, or HIV—who knows? The lack of healthcare has turned my life into a medical mystery show.

22. **Eviction? Bring It On****:

- Honestly, I'd love to go to court over this eviction. It's the perfect stage for my one-man show, "Conspiracy: The Musical."

23. **Political Asylum in My Own Country****:

- As a rejected whistleblower and political refugee, I can't be evicted. I mean, come on, where's the humanity?

24. **My Mate Wayne's Moving In****:

- If I go, Wayne goes. It's my choice, my control, my very own "The Odd Couple" reboot.

25. **Therapy and Legal Rejection****:

- Rejected therapy, chemical restraints, and a locked NDIS budget? It's like the worst customer service experience ever, but with more needles.

26. **Appointment with Legal Aid****:

- I have an appointment with Legal Aid and Shiner Lawyers. And guess what? I'm staying put, like a stubborn stain that just won't come out.

**Conclusion**:

In this madcap adventure of bureaucracy, homelessness, and political persecution, eviction is just another plot twist. But fear not! This is the kind of absurdity that can't be evicted, no matter how hard the universe tries. Welcome to the sitcom that is my life, now playing on all channels!
