Strengthen, Educate, Support

Introduction

About the Service

Who We Are

Liberty Behavioural Services is a network of therapists who meet the NDIS capability framework and are registered Behaviour therapists in line with NDIA law. Liberty behavioural Services is NDIS registered.

100% of our practitioners have undertaken behaviourism studies in addition to their qualifications.

100% are individually NDIA behaviour-support-capability-framework endorsed by the Q and S commission

Standard operating hours: Monday to Friday 9 am – 5 pm, or as negotiated with your allocated behaviour therapist.

What We Do

Core Service Delivery Aims of Liberty Behavioural Services:

High Quality and Sophisticated Responses

The service has a mixture of Psychology, Social work, Counselling, Teaching and pure behaviourism backgrounds. All therapists have undertaken specific behaviourism training and have access to a network of resources, supervision and inter-therapist consults.

Collaboration

The service's key focus is on acknowledging, sharing and enhancing the 'toolkits and resources' of those most involved in the participant's life. It hopes to merge the expertise of those who know the participant best with targeted, evidence-based behavioural analysis/interventions

Reduction of Risk

Liberty Behavioural Services fundamentally aims to reduce the risk of harm to self or others, and minimise behaviour's which limit the participant from accessing services, the community, friends/family or facilities.

Culturally Appropriate

Liberty Behavioural Services endeavors to provide culturally appropriate responses. If there is any practice or consideration, the practitioner should utilize, please make him/her aware of this.

Interventions based on Individual Circumstances

Through an in-depth analysis of what the function/message/cause/purpose of the 'behaviours of concern' are, those involved will have targeted intervention points at which they can focus their energies more efficiently. Those involved will explore reactive strategies aimed at gaining rapid de-escalation of a 'behaviour of concern'. The process will develop proactive strategies for building up protective factors within the participants life.

What We Do

Complaints Feedback Process

When receiving services from Liberty Behavioural Services:

- ✓ Participants, family members or any party involved always have the right to complain/suggest areas for improvement.
- ✓ Issue raised will be listened to and investigated.
- ✓ Any party raising an issue will never be penalised for doing so.
- ✓ LBS will always aim to comply with the NDIS code of conduct.
- ✓ Complaints/feedback are viewed as opportunities for improvement and or better communication
- ✓ A complaint can be made through written or verbal communication to David Hogg at LBS.
- ✓ If you are not comfortable speaking directly to LBS, you can engage an advocate or any external agency to support you (see below for some example agencies).

What We Do

Process and Time frames

Submit your complaint either via email, letter, text message, verbal or any other type of communication to LBS. The complaint can be submitted anonymously through emailing the director at david@libertybehavioural.com or posted to Suite 733, 585 Little Collins St. Melbourne VIC 3000. Please indicate if this is just feedback or formal complaint you want investigated.

If a formal complaint/feedback it will be acknowledged within 5 days of receipt (unless the worker is away during this time) in which case, it will be acknowledged within 5 days of their return.

Unless resolved immediately, LBS will endeavour to investigate the complaint within 28 days and provide a response. LBS will endeavour to ensure any reasonable accommodation's are made to account for different preferred communication methods, thus a written response can be replaced by any other requested/adaptive communication method upon request.

LBS will explore the issues raised with the relevant parties to try and find a mutually agreeable resolution.

Invoicing

Behaviour support operates slightly differently from other domains within the NDIS as it is bound by law to implement specific things within specific time frames. For example, if there is the presence of restrictive practices an interim plan, a functional assessment and a comprehensive behaviour support plan must be developed within 6 months (where possible). There are further legal requirements involved in authorisation, including both state and federal government involvement with the behaviour practitioner. As such behaviour support operates with a mixture of face to face, direct intervention, assessment, training of those directly involved in the person's life, and reports. It is the intention to make any reports done 'come to life' in terms of being implemented and impactful.

Duration

Behaviour support usually goes for 6-7 years under the NDIS. As such we can see what works, what doesn't and evolve our plans as we progress.
