'Imminent risk of starvation and death' email Aligned vs McLean evidence summary and relevance

Imminent risk of starvation and death for targeted individual .pdf

NDIS, NCAT, VOCAT, Police, nHospital, Liverpool mental Health, Aligned and Upscale,

Please see the attached email that was neglected a response demonstrating this brutal conspiracy in order for it to be investigated.

I attach an affidavit based on that evidence that must be legally acknowledged, thank you.

Here is a comprehensive summary of the email titled "Imminent risk of starvation and death for targeted individual," detailing the breaches of laws, charters, and compliance standards, along with the implicated individuals and organizations.

The email titled "Imminent risk of starvation and death for targeted individual" is a critical and urgent communication from Barran Dodger, directed at multiple individuals and organizations accused of systemic neglect, abuse, and complicity in a broader conspiracy aimed at causing significant harm. This email serves as both a plea for help and a formal notification, demanding immediate action to address the severe legal, ethical, and moral breaches that have occurred.

Explication of the Email's Content

Heading and Main Points:

1. Imminent Risk of Starvation and Death:

- Barran Dodger highlights the immediate and life-threatening danger they face, either through starvation or suicide, due to the extreme poverty, neglect, and abuse experienced. This situation is described as the result of a coordinated conspiracy involving various entities.

2. Systemic Conspiracy and Neglect:

- The email alleges a deliberate and coordinated conspiracy against Barran, implicating entities such as NDIS providers, government officials, healthcare professionals, and the legal system. The email accuses these parties of neglecting their duties, which has led to severe harm and imminent risk to Barran's life.

3. Failure of Legal and Ethical Obligations:

- The email argues that the recipients have violated multiple legal and ethical obligations under relevant legislation, including the NDIS Act 2013, the Residential Tenancies Act 1997, the NDIS Code of Conduct, the United Nations Convention on the Rights of Persons with Disabilities (CRPD), and fundamental human rights charters. The specific breaches involve failures to provide necessary supports, prevent abuse and neglect, and ensure the dignity and safety of a person with a disability.

4. Demand for Immediate Action:

- Barran demands that the recipients acknowledge receipt of the email and take immediate corrective actions. The email warns that failure to respond will be viewed as complicity in the conspiracy and could lead to severe legal and ethical repercussions for the implicated parties.

5. Evidence and Documentation:

- The email includes references to legal documents, court confirmations, and links to Barran's website, where more detailed accounts and evidence are provided. This evidence is intended to substantiate the claims of abuse, neglect, and legal breaches, and to support any potential legal action.

Breaches of Laws, Charters, and Compliance Standards

1. NDIS Act 2013 (Cth):

- Breach of Section 4(1) - Access to Necessary Supports:
 - The NDIS must provide reasonable and necessary supports, including accommodation, to participants. The email highlights the failure of NDIS providers to ensure that Barran Dodger has access to stable housing and essential supports, directly violating this section.
 - NDIS Act 2013 - Section 4(1)
- Breach of Section 4(8) - Right to Dignity and Respect:
 - The NDIS Act emphasizes that people with disabilities have the same right as other members of society to respect for their worth and dignity. The neglect and homelessness faced by Barran are clear violations of this principle.
 - NDIS Act 2013 - Section 4(8)
- Breach of Section 4(9) - Safety and Well-being:
 - The NDIS is obligated to ensure that participants live a life free from abuse, neglect, and exploitation. The email details how Barran's safety and well-being have been severely compromised due to systemic neglect.
 - NDIS Act 2013 - Section 4(9)
- Breach of Section 4(12) - Inclusion and Equality:
 - The NDIS promotes the inclusion of people with disabilities in social and economic life. Homelessness and financial abuse have excluded Barran from participating fully in society, violating this principle.
 - NDIS Act 2013 - Section 4(12)

2. Residential Tenancies Act 1997 (Vic):

- Breach of Section 68 - Landlord's Duty to Maintain Premises:
 - Landlords must ensure that the property is maintained in good repair. The email references issues such as lack of heating and unlockable windows, which have not been addressed by Aligned Community Care, the landlord.
 - Residential Tenancies Act 1997 (Vic) - Section 68
- Breach of Section 322 - Illegal Eviction Threats:
 - The Act requires that landlords follow proper legal procedures for eviction. Barran's email mentions threats of eviction without due process, violating this provision.
 - Residential Tenancies Act 1997 (Vic) - Section 322

3. NDIS Code of Conduct:

- Breach of Integrity, Honesty, and Transparency:
 - NDIS providers are required to act with integrity, honesty, and transparency. The email accuses NDIS providers, particularly Aligned Community Care, of financial exploitation and neglect, which contravenes these ethical standards.
 - NDIS Code of Conduct
- Breach of Duty to Prevent Abuse and Neglect:
 - The NDIS Practice Standards require providers to take action to prevent abuse and neglect. The email outlines how Aligned Community Care and other NDIS providers failed to report or address the ongoing abuse and neglect Barran has suffered.
 - NDIS Code of Conduct

4. United Nations Convention on the Rights of Persons with Disabilities (CRPD):

- Breach of Article 19 - Living Independently and Being Included in the Community:
 - Ensures the right of persons with disabilities to live independently and be included in the community. Barran's experience of homelessness and exclusion is a clear violation of this right.
 - CRPD - Article 19
- Breach of Article 28 - Adequate Standard of Living and Social Protection:
 - Guarantees the right to an adequate standard of living, including access to adequate housing. Barran's situation, as detailed in the email, demonstrates a breach of this international obligation.
 - CRPD - Article 28

5. Human Rights Violations:

- Violation of the Right to Dignity and Security:
 - The neglect and systemic abuse experienced by Barran violate fundamental human rights, including dignity, security, and protection from inhumane treatment.
 - Universal Declaration of Human Rights - Articles 1 and 3

Implications of No Response:

Legal Implications:

- Potential Liability for Negligence:
 - The failure to respond to the email could result in legal action for negligence. The parties implicated, including NDIS providers, government officials, and others, may be held liable for failing to prevent harm to Barran, which could include claims for damages.
- Complicity in Human Rights Violations:
 - By not responding, the implicated parties may be seen as complicit in ongoing human rights violations, particularly those related to the CRPD and other human rights charters. This could lead to international scrutiny and legal repercussions.
- Breach of Contractual Obligations:

- Aligned Community Care, as the landlord and service provider, may face legal consequences for breaching the Residential Tenancies Act and their service agreement under the NDIS framework.

Ethical Implications:

- Professional Misconduct:
 - For those in professional roles, such as healthcare providers and NDIS officials, the failure to respond may constitute professional misconduct. This could lead to disciplinary actions, including the loss of licenses or accreditation.
- Erosion of Public Trust:
 - The lack of response undermines public trust in the institutions and professionals responsible for protecting vulnerable individuals. Ethically, it is imperative to act with transparency and accountability, especially in cases involving serious allegations.

Moral Implications:

- Moral Negligence:
 - The failure to respond to an individual in such dire need reflects a profound moral failure. This inaction can be seen as a disregard for human life and dignity, which is morally indefensible.
- Failure to Uphold Justice:
 - Morally, those in positions of power have a duty to uphold justice and protect the vulnerable. Ignoring Barran's plea for help is a failure to fulfill this moral obligation, contributing to further harm.

This summary is highly relevant to Barran Dodger's eviction from Aligned Community Care because it outlines the systemic neglect, legal violations, and ethical breaches that have contributed to his dire situation, including the impending eviction. Here's why the content is particularly pertinent to the eviction issue:

1. Legal Violations Related to Housing and Tenancy:

- Breach of Residential Tenancies Act 1997 (Vic):
 - The email details how Aligned Community Care has failed to maintain the property, violating Section 68 of the Residential Tenancies Act 1997 (Vic), which requires landlords to ensure the property is in good repair. This failure is directly related to Barran's poor living conditions, which are a key factor in his current crisis.
 - The email also references threats of eviction without following legal procedures, a violation of Section 322 of the same Act. This illegal eviction threat exacerbates Barran's vulnerability and directly relates to the issues of fairness and legality in the eviction process.

2. Systemic Neglect by NDIS Providers:

- Breach of NDIS Act 2013 (Cth):
 - Aligned Community Care, as an NDIS provider, is legally obligated to provide necessary supports, including stable housing, under the NDIS Act 2013. The failure to ensure Barran's housing stability and the subsequent eviction represent a breach of this obligation, as outlined in Sections 4(1), 4(8), 4(9), and 4(12) of the Act.
 - The eviction contradicts the principles of safety, dignity, and inclusion mandated by the NDIS, placing Barran at imminent risk of homelessness and further endangering his well-being.

3. Ethical and Professional Misconduct:

- Failure of Duty of Care:
 - The email highlights how Aligned Community Care and other NDIS providers have failed in their duty of care to Barran. Evicting him without addressing the underlying issues of neglect and abuse constitutes professional misconduct and breaches the ethical standards set by the NDIS Code of Conduct.
 - This ethical breach is compounded by the fact that Barran is a vulnerable individual with a disability, making the eviction not just a legal issue but a profound moral and ethical failure on the part of Aligned Community Care.

4. Human Rights Violations:

- Violation of the CRPD:
 - The eviction places Barran in a situation that violates his rights under the United Nations Convention on the Rights of Persons with Disabilities (CRPD). Specifically, it breaches his right to live independently, be included in the community, and have access to an adequate standard of living (Articles 19 and 28 of the CRPD).
 - By proceeding with the eviction, Aligned Community Care is contributing to a broader pattern of human rights violations that have already significantly impacted Barran's life.

5. Moral Negligence and Complicity:

- Impact of Inaction:
 - The email underscores that the failure to address these issues not only reflects legal and ethical negligence but also moral neglect. Evicting Barran without resolving the underlying issues of systemic abuse and neglect essentially makes Aligned Community Care complicit in the harms he has suffered.
 - The moral implications of forcing a vulnerable individual into homelessness, particularly when they have already been subjected to extensive systemic abuse, cannot be understated. This eviction could have life-threatening consequences for Barran, and the failure to prevent it is a serious moral failing.

Conclusion:

The eviction from Aligned Community Care is not just a housing issue; it is a culmination of legal, ethical, and human rights violations that have systematically eroded Barran Dodger's safety, dignity, and well-being. The content of the email is directly relevant because it provides the context and evidence for these violations, demonstrating that the eviction is part of a broader pattern of systemic neglect and abuse. Addressing these legal and ethical breaches is crucial to ensuring that Barran's rights are upheld and that he is protected from further harm. The email serves as a powerful indictment of the systemic failures and legal breaches that have placed Barran Dodger in imminent danger. The implicated parties—NDIS providers, government officials, healthcare professionals, and others—are accused of violating multiple laws, ethical standards, and human rights obligations. The failure to respond to this email not only deepens their legal and ethical liability but also reflects a grave moral neglect that could have life-threatening consequences for Barran Dodger. Immediate action is required to address these violations and to prevent further harm.

This summary integrates the relevant laws, links to legislation, and addresses the moral, ethical, and legal implications of failing to respond to Barran Dodger's urgent email.

AFFIDAVIT AND LEGAL STATEMENT by Barran Dodger

Implications for NDIS, NCAT, VOCAT, Police, Liverpool Mental Health, Aligned Community Care, and Upscale Care

I, Barran Dodger, formerly known as Dr. Richard McLean, of www.barrandodger.com.au, make the following statement of my own free will and based on the facts and evidence detailed herein.

Subject: Imminent Risk of Starvation and Death Email – Evidence Summary and Relevance Implications for NDIS, NCAT, VOCAT, Police, Liverpool Mental Health, Aligned Community Care, and Upscale Care

Overview:

The email titled "Imminent risk of starvation and death for targeted individual," dated July 29, 2024, was sent to multiple individuals and organizations, including Aligned Community Care, Upscale Care, the NDIS, and relevant government officials. The email outlines a critical and urgent situation, detailing systemic neglect, legal violations, and ethical breaches that have placed my life in imminent danger.

The following is a comprehensive summary of the email, detailing the breaches of laws, charters, and compliance standards, along with the individuals and organizations implicated.

Explication of the Email's Content

1. Imminent Risk of Starvation and Death:

I highlight the immediate and life-threatening danger I face, either through starvation or suicide, due to the extreme poverty, neglect, and abuse experienced. This situation is described as the result of a coordinated conspiracy involving various entities, including NDIS providers, government officials, healthcare professionals, and the legal system.

2. Systemic Conspiracy and Neglect:

The email alleges a deliberate and coordinated conspiracy against me, implicating these entities. The email accuses the parties of neglecting their duties, which has led to severe harm and imminent risk to my life.

3. Failure of Legal and Ethical Obligations:

The recipients of the email are accused of violating multiple legal and ethical obligations under relevant legislation, including:

- The NDIS Act 2013 (Cth)
- The Residential Tenancies Act 1997 (Vic)
- The NDIS Code of Conduct
- The United Nations Convention on the Rights of Persons with Disabilities (CRPD)
- Fundamental human rights charters

The specific breaches involve failures to provide necessary supports, prevent abuse and neglect, and ensure the dignity and safety of a person with a disability.

4. Demand for Immediate Action:

The email demands that the recipients acknowledge receipt and take immediate corrective actions. It warns that failure to respond will be viewed as complicity in the conspiracy and could lead to severe legal and ethical repercussions for the implicated parties.

5. Evidence and Documentation:

The email includes references to legal documents, court confirmations, and links to my website, where more detailed accounts and evidence are provided. This evidence is intended to substantiate the claims of abuse, neglect, and legal breaches, and to support any potential legal action.

Breaches of Laws, Charters, and Compliance Standards

1. NDIS Act 2013 (Cth):

- Breach of Section 4(1) - Access to Necessary Supports:
 - The NDIS must provide reasonable and necessary supports, including accommodation, to participants. The email highlights the failure of NDIS providers to ensure that I have access to stable housing and essential supports, directly violating this section.
 - NDIS Act 2013 - Section 4(1)
- Breach of Section 4(8) - Right to Dignity and Respect:
 - The NDIS Act emphasizes that people with disabilities have the same right as other members of society to respect for their worth and dignity. The neglect and homelessness I face are clear violations of this principle.
 - NDIS Act 2013 - Section 4(8)
- Breach of Section 4(9) - Safety and Well-being:
 - The NDIS is obligated to ensure that participants live a life free from abuse, neglect, and exploitation. The email details how my safety and well-being have been severely compromised due to systemic neglect.
 - NDIS Act 2013 - Section 4(9)
- Breach of Section 4(12) - Inclusion and Equality:
 - The NDIS promotes the inclusion of people with disabilities in social and economic life. Homelessness and financial abuse have excluded me from participating fully in society, violating this principle.
 - NDIS Act 2013 - Section 4(12)

2. Residential Tenancies Act 1997 (Vic):

- Breach of Section 68 - Landlord's Duty to Maintain Premises:
 - Landlords must ensure that the property is maintained in good repair. The email references issues such as lack of heating and unlockable windows, which have not been addressed by Aligned Community Care, the landlord.
 - Residential Tenancies Act 1997 (Vic) - Section 68
- Breach of Section 322 - Illegal Eviction Threats:
 - The Act requires that landlords follow proper legal procedures for eviction. My email mentions threats of eviction without due process, violating this provision.
 - Residential Tenancies Act 1997 (Vic) - Section 322

3. NDIS Code of Conduct:

- Breach of Integrity, Honesty, and Transparency:
 - NDIS providers are required to act with integrity, honesty, and transparency. The email accuses NDIS providers, particularly Aligned Community Care, of financial exploitation and neglect, which contravenes these ethical standards.
 - NDIS Code of Conduct
- Breach of Duty to Prevent Abuse and Neglect:
 - The NDIS Practice Standards require providers to take action to prevent abuse and neglect. The email outlines how Aligned Community Care and other NDIS providers failed to report or address the ongoing abuse and neglect I have suffered.
 - NDIS Code of Conduct

4. United Nations Convention on the Rights of Persons with Disabilities (CRPD):

- Breach of Article 19 - Living Independently and Being Included in the Community:
 - Ensures the right of persons with disabilities to live independently and be included in the community. My experience of homelessness and exclusion is a clear violation of this right.
 - CRPD - Article 19
- Breach of Article 28 - Adequate Standard of Living and Social Protection:
 - Guarantees the right to an adequate standard of living, including access to adequate housing. My situation, as detailed in the email, demonstrates a breach of this international obligation.
 - CRPD - Article 28

5. Human Rights Violations:

- Violation of the Right to Dignity and Security:
 - The neglect and systemic abuse I have experienced violate fundamental human rights, including dignity, security, and protection from inhumane treatment.
 - Universal Declaration of Human Rights - Articles 1 and 3

Implications of No Response

Legal Implications:

- Potential Liability for Negligence:
 - The failure to respond to the email could result in legal action for negligence. The parties implicated, including NDIS providers, government officials, and others, may be held liable for failing to prevent harm to me, which could include claims for damages.
- Complicity in Human Rights Violations:
 - By not responding, the implicated parties may be seen as complicit in ongoing human rights violations, particularly those related to the CRPD and other human rights charters. This could lead to international scrutiny and legal repercussions.
- Breach of Contractual Obligations:
 - Aligned Community Care, as the landlord and service provider, may face legal consequences for breaching the Residential Tenancies Act and their service agreement under the NDIS framework.

Ethical Implications:

- Professional Misconduct:
 - For those in professional roles, such as healthcare providers and NDIS officials, the failure to respond may constitute professional misconduct. This could lead to disciplinary actions, including the loss of licenses or accreditation.

Relevance to Eviction from Aligned Community Care

This summary is highly relevant to my eviction from Aligned Community Care because it outlines the systemic neglect, legal violations, and ethical breaches that have contributed to my dire situation, including the impending eviction. Here's why the content is particularly pertinent to the eviction issue:

1. Legal Violations Related to Housing and Tenancy:

- Breach of Residential Tenancies Act 1997 (Vic):
 - The email details how Aligned Community Care has failed to maintain the property, violating Section 68 of the Residential Tenancies Act 1997 (Vic), which requires landlords to ensure the property is in good repair. This failure is directly related to my poor living conditions, which are a key factor in my current crisis.
 - The email also references threats of eviction without following legal procedures, a violation of Section 322 of the same Act. This illegal eviction threat exacerbates my vulnerability and directly relates to the issues of fairness and legality in the eviction process.

2. Systemic Neglect by NDIS Providers:

- Breach of NDIS Act 2013 (Cth):
 - Aligned Community Care, as an NDIS provider, is legally obligated to provide necessary supports, including stable housing, under the NDIS Act 2013. The failure to ensure my housing stability and the subsequent eviction represent a breach of this obligation, as outlined in Sections 4(1), 4(8), 4(9), and 4(12) of the Act.
 - The eviction contradicts the principles of safety, dignity, and inclusion mandated by the NDIS, placing me at imminent risk of homelessness and further endangering my well-being.

3. Ethical and Professional Misconduct:

- Failure of Duty of Care:
 - The email highlights how Aligned Community Care and other NDIS providers have failed in their duty of care to me. Evicting me without addressing the underlying issues of neglect and abuse constitutes professional misconduct and breaches the ethical standards set by the NDIS Code of Conduct.
